STEERING COMMITTEE
MEMBERS
(by alphabetical order)

Ayelet BERNAN, Gian Luca BURCI, Hélène DE POOTER, Makane Moïse MBENGUE, Pedro A. VILLARREAL, Danielle YEOW

Coordinator
Hélène DE POOTER
Senior Lecturer in Law, Bourgogne Franche-Comté University (France)

Deputy-coordinator
Gian Luca BURCI
Adjunct Professor of International Law, Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies (Geneva)

Rapporteur
Pedro A. VILLARREAL
Senior Research Fellow, Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law (Heidelberg)

Ayelet BERNAN
Ayelet Berman leads the Global Health Law and Governance Program at the Centre for International Law at the National University of Singapore, where she is also a Senior Fellow, and an Adjunct Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law. She is the Co-Chair of the American Society of International Law ‘International Organizations’ Interest Group. She has published in peer-reviewed journals, including the European Journal of International Law, the International Journal of Constitutional Law and the American Journal of International Law, and has two forthcoming books: Rethinking Participation in Global Governance (OUP, 2022) and Investment Treaties and the Rule of Law Promise (CUP, 2022). She holds a PhD and DEA in international law (Graduate Institute, Geneva) and an LLB (Hebrew University of Jerusalem).

Gian Luca BURCI
Gian Luca Burci is Adjunct Professor of International Law at the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies of Geneva since 2012. His areas of expertise are public international law, the law and practice of international organizations as well as global health governance and law. He served in the Legal Office of the World Health Organization from 1998 to 2016 and was its Legal Counsel from 2005 to 2016. He is co-editor of Global Health Law (Elgar, 2018). He is a member of the ILA’s Global Health Law Committee.

Hélène DE POOTER
Hélène De Pooter is Senior Lecturer in Law at Bourgogne Franche-Comté University (France). She conducts research in general public international law and is the author of several publications in the field of the territorial delimitations, the law of international organizations, the law of the sea, the law of immunities and international humanitarian law. Besides, she has specialized in international health law, particularly in the field of infectious diseases. She holds a PhD from Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne University where she defended her thesis International law in the face of
She recently wrote an article on the WHO’s response to the COVID-19 pandemic (Annuaire français de droit international, vol. 66) and her analysis of the impact of the pandemic on migrants will be published in 2022. She is a member of the ILA’s Global Health Law Committee.

Makane Moïse MBENGUE
Makane Moïse Mbengue is Professor of International Law at the Faculty of Law of the University of Geneva and Director of the Department of International Law and International Organization. He is also an Affiliate Professor at Sciences Po Paris (School of Law). He is a Member of the Curatorium of The Hague Academy of International Law and an Associate Member of the Institute of International Law. He acts as counsel and arbitrator in disputes before international courts and tribunals and as advisor for several international organisations. He is the author of several publications in the field of general international law, international environmental law (in particular in its relationship with health), international economic law and international dispute settlement. Since 2017, he is the President of the African Society of International Law (AfSIL).

Pedro A. VILLARREAL
Pedro A. Villarreal is a Senior Research Fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law. He conducts research on international and comparative law and human health issues, as well as its intersections with international economic law. He received his PhD in Law from the National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM). His book, Pandemics and Law: A Global Governance Perspective (published in 2019 in Spanish) was awarded the Prize for the Best Doctoral Dissertation in Law and Social Sciences. He is a Fellow of both the Global Health Law Centre at the University of Groningen, and the Human Rights in Context Programme at the University of Ghent. He is a member of the ILA’s Global Health Law Committee, the Coordinating Committee of the European Society of International Law’s Interest Group on International Health Law, the Global Health Law Consortium, and the German Alliance for Global Health Research.

Danielle YEOW
Danielle Yeow is an Adjunct Senior Research Fellow at the Centre for International Law, National University of Singapore where she leads on climate change law and policy issues. Her research interests relate to the interaction between climate change and other disciplines such as trade and investment, human rights and international security. She also hosts the CIL In Conversation series on key climate change issues and trends. Danielle is concurrently a Visiting Researcher at the Asia-Pacific Centre for Environmental Law, National University of Singapore. Danielle has over 25 years of public sector experience in Singapore as a public international law practitioner. She was most recently the Deputy Director-General at the International Affairs Division of the Singapore Attorney-General’s Chambers where she oversaw the practice teams for trade and investment, international environment and climate change and international security. Danielle had previously served as an alternate member of the implementation and compliance committee that is mandated to promote compliance and facilitate implementation of the Paris Agreement.

ASSISTANT

Sandra F. A. TAN (Septembre-December 2021)
Sandra Tan is a Research Apprentice in the Global Health Law & Governance Program at the Centre for International Law at the National University of Singapore. She holds an LLB with Second Class (Upper Division) Honours from the Faculty of Law at the National University of Singapore. She is admitted to the Singapore bar. In 2022 she will be joining the Land Transport Authority of Singapore as a Legal Counsel.

Sheares TIONG (January-April 2022)
Sheares Tiong is a Research Assistant in the Global Health Law & Governance Program at the Centre for International Law at the National University of Singapore. He is currently a third-year LLB student at the Faculty of Law at the National University of Singapore.